It is possible that but few people have given themselves the pleasure of a ride over the road to the new dam of the Scranton Gas and Water company. If they haven't yet taken it, no time should be lost, for these glorious October days will have a new meaning after passing over that picturesque drive. There are those who would go hundreds of miles to view such scenery as that unfolded in this little journey at our very doors. It is something that not only surprises, but startles the beholder with its beauty. If he is unprepared for the succession of exquisite pictures. The road, from the time it leaves the Elmhurst boulevard, far beyond the speedway, is in splendid condition with its finely powdered shale and smooth bed. Close to its edges lies the thick woodland and, winding as it does in graceful curves, a continuous surprise awaits one. The coloring of the forests just now is beyond description and it is too early for the depressing mantle of fallen leaves to hide the greenness of the turf. Perhaps the loveliest part of the drive is reached after passing the dam, where the road, built high along the mountain side, closely follows a sparkling stream. The scenery here is wild and magnificent, with the rugged cliffs and colossal boulders that mark the entire distance to the brick kilns. When you arrive here you want to turn around and go back the same way, for the approach into the city from this region is not calculated to inspire the beholder with awe, admiration or inspiration. Every one who has a wheel, a horse, a mule or any other means of being conveyed over this supremely beautiful drive, which is free to all, should insure to go this week. Incidentally it may be mentioned that the walk is good, and you all ought to walk a few.

Along the Erie and Wyoming railroad, just outside the city limits, seen in coming in from the new road to the reservoirs, is a little community of a half-dozen or more houses, where yesterday was evidently washday, as the family wash was out galore in every front yard. It was rather generally suspected by those who noticed this odd circumstance that the housewives were forehanded in making preparations for a good early start on bargain day. The classes at the Young Women's Christian association will open this evening. Among the interesting features this year will be French, taught by Mrs. F. B. Hamilton, whose talent and ability as a teacher are well known in this city. The German classes will be under the direction of Frau Kahler. Probably the opportunity for advancement.

HIGH GRADE Suits and Overcoats to measure. Being conveyed over this supremely beautiful drive, which is free to all, should insure to go this week. Incidentally it may be mentioned that the walk is good, and you all ought to walk a few.

WATERS, The Hatter, 205 Lackawanna Ave. will also make and take your order and measure.

ment in an educational way has never been so advantageous as now. The shooting of pet cats has recently been a favorite amusement of "smart" Quincey avenue boys. Their last offense was the brutal killing of a little kitten, a pet in a Mulberry street home. Now the officers will be on the lookout for these dangerous young residents.

PERSONAL. A. R. Whitmore, of the Scranton Business college, is in Canton, Ill. Miss Swan and Miss E. J. Chase have removed from the Fairport House to the Nash. Miss Anna Eliza Mulford, of Unadilla, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Seiden, of Sanderson avenue. Miss Margaret Daly has returned to her home in New York after spending several weeks with friends at Dunmore. Mr. and Mrs. Curt Smith, of Bald Mount, were the guests of Mrs. Smith's parents, the West Side yesterday. The Misses Jennie Harris and Margaret Davies, of the West Side, were the guests of friends at Wilkes-Barre yesterday. Miss Alice Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Williams, of Luzerne street, has been the guest of the Misses Lizike and Cordeila Owen, of Oak street, Taylor, during the past week. Miss Bertha Reese, of North Hyde Park avenue, leaves today to assume charge of the surgical ward of the Fitch Accidental hospital at Buffalo. Miss Reese is a graduate of Boston training hospital for nurses and is exceptionally well qualified for her new position.

CONDITION OF JORDAN. Physicians at the Pasteur Institute in New York Are Hopeful of Curing Him.

Very favorable word was brought back by Dr. W. F. Brady, who accompanied John F. Jordan, of 612 West Lackawanna Avenue to the Pasteur Institute in New York city, on Friday morning. Owing to a slight scratch on the arm inflicted by his dying son, it was supposed that Mr. Jordan was suffering from hydrophobia. Dr. Brady was seen by a Tribune reporter and he stated that the first treatment had been administered in his presence. The physicians of the institution were very hopeful of a cure. The treatment will require fifteen days at least. In connection with the recent bereavement which has come to Mr. Jordan's family and his own unfortunate accident the old saying that "a friend in need is a friend indeed" seems literally true. It requires several hundred dollars to pass through the Pasteur cure and during that time Mr. Jordan is not earning anything. Saturday all the employees of the Mt. Pleasant mine where Mr. Jordan worked, from Superintendent Sprague down, raised a fund which will be given to Mr. Jordan. In addition, many other persons have expressed a desire to do something for the unfortunate man.

PROGRAMME FOR NEVERSINKS. Will Be the Nay Aug Company's Guests Wednesday Night. The Nay Aug Engine Company has perfected a programme for the entertainment of the Neversink Engine company of Reading, which will spend Wednesday night in this city. The company is making a tour of several important cities before reaching Scranton from Albany the company will reach here via the Delaware and Hudson at 4.47 p. m. Wednesday. A delegation of the Nay Aug men will escort them through the principal streets before reaching the Nay Aug house where an informal reception will be held. In the evening the visitors will be taken to the Hook and Ladder, Phoenix and Crystals companies houses and to several points about the city. A reception will be held at the Nay Aug house afterward. The Neversink's will go to Wilkes-Barre Thursday for the parade there. The company will not participate in the Scranton parade Friday.

ROBBED OF HER PURSE. Mrs. Evans Loses $146 While Shopping in the Leader. Mrs. Irene H. Evans, of 1065 Mulberry Street, was the victim of a daring theft in the Leader on Wyoming Avenue Saturday. Her purse containing $146 was stolen from a counter where she placed it while conversing with a clerk.

BURLESQUE ON KLONDIKE CRAZE. Will Be a Feature of London Gaiety Girl's Performance. Commencing this afternoon the London Gaiety Girl's company will hold forth at Davis' theater for three days. The company this year is replete with all the good things of the season. Everything new, bright and sparkling. One of the many novelties that might be mentioned in the spectacular burlesque of the Klondike craze, introducing the Yukon girls with the jolliest comingling of comedy, pretty girls and including Miss Tot Gulchard in her captivating low dances, with the aid of electric effects, making the specialty the most striking and gorgeous ever conceived.

STOLE A CARRIAGE RIDE. Patrolman Neuls Waited Two Whole Hours for Their Return. William Nolan and George Groener, so they gave their names at police court yesterday, were intoxicated Saturday night and as they strolled down Penn Avenue the men got into the carriage of a Mr. Weber and drove off.

IMPOSITION HAS GONE FAR ENOUGH

Aldermen, Justices and Constables Will Meekly Submit No Longer.

BAND TOGETHER FOR PROTECTION. Old Constables' Association Disbands and a New and Broader One is Formed—One Attorney Selected to Take Care of the Legal Difficulties That the Association's Members May Encounter—Woolkers Didn't Show Up—Another Meeting on Oct. 20.

Let the hot polloi stand from under. The aldermen, justices of the peace, constables and deputy constables have decided to band themselves together, in a hide-bound crisis-cross, touch-all organization. They do this for mutual protection—for fear someone might not understand their purposes. The idea was concocted and given its first push at a meeting in Durr's hall, Lackawanna avenue, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was to have been a regular business session of the County Constables' association and its primal object was to take steps to have various of their wrongs righted. Only a scattering handful of the poor down-trodden conservators of the peace, however, put in an appearance and the idea of doing the turning-worm act was despairingly given up. Aldermen and justices of the peace throughout the county had been invited to attend the meeting and the presence of two of these officials, Alderman John T. Howe, of the Seventeenth ward, and Squire William Mason, of Blakely, suggested the idea of a broader and probably stronger organization. By unanimous consent the County Constables' association was disbanded and the new and as yet unnamed organization arose—yes, Phoenix-like—from its ashes.

BARRON CHAIRMAN. Richard Barron, president of the constabulary, was continued as temporary chairman of the new society and Alderman Howe was made its treasurer. Constable J. F. Woolkers, of the Eleventh ward, who was secretary of the constables, did not attend the meeting, and his absence had much to do with the disruption of the association, his fellows becoming discouraged and disgruntled, it is said, because the secretary never got around to tell them how much they owed for dues and the like. Mr. Woolkers had been specially sought to attend yesterday's meeting and in the hopes that he might in an appearance the opening of the meeting was postponed for over an hour and a half.

SHOULD JOIN FORCES. It was finally agreed in an informal way that the magistrates and officers should join forces, promulgate to the world that what was the hurt of one was the concern of all, stand on this platform, back to back, against the whole world, and particularly the fee-hawking county commissioners' clerk, Charles Wagner, and his heartless accomplice, County Solicitor Knapp.

COLLIERY RESUMED OPERATIONS. About Half the Men Employed at Heidelberg Reported for Duty. No attempt was made by the strikers at the Heidelberg colliery Saturday to prevent the resumption of work at the Heidelberg, No. 2, mine of the Lehigh Valley company at Smithville. The absence of any attempt to be believed to be due to the arrest and committal to jail Friday night of five of the ringleaders of Friday's disorder.

THE SAME OLD GAME. James O'Donnell, of Forest City, Worked by a Three Shell Artist. James O'Donnell, of Forest City, fell an easy victim to a "three shell" game in Honedale last Wednesday and on the charge of being one of the gamblers, Lewis Osterhout, of this city, was arrested here Saturday. Osterhout furnished $1,000 bail.

ANOTHER SUIT AGAINST DR. NAMAR

Miss Thompson Will Seek to Recover the Alleged Loans.

DEFENDANT IS STILL IN PRISON. Effort to Secure His Release on Common Bail Is Not Successful—Judges Reduce the Amount of the Required Bond, but the Expected Bondsmen Do Not Materialize—Saturday's Doings in Court Briefly Mentioned. This Week's Court.

Weston, Diehl Hall and Kemmerer, attorneys for Miss Laura Thompson, the plaintiff in the $5,000 breach of promise suit against Dr. Namar, will within a few days institute a civil suit against the accused physician for the recovery of the $610 which it is alleged he borrowed from the plaintiff during the course of their love making. Miss Thompson has a memorandum showing the date and amount of each loan and the circumstances under which it was given. It promises to make quite an interesting reading as the love letters.

ITALIAN USED A KNIFE.

Plunged It Twice into a Jesup Constable's Shoulder. An Italian, Frank Guidon, of Jessup, attacked Constable E. G. Murray, at that place, with a knife and plunged it twice into the latter's shoulder. Murray had his hand badly gashed while parrying Guidon's blows, but he succeeded in getting the vicious fellow to the lockup. He was sent to the county jail Saturday night.

STARTLED BY A DREAM.

Mrs. Margaret Kutz Fell Out of Bed and Sustained a Bad Fracture of the Leg. Startled by a dream, Mrs. Margaret Kutz, aged 76 years, fell from her bed at 10 o'clock last night at her home, 1022 Bergen court, South Side, and sustained a fractured leg. The aged woman clung to the edge of the bed, but she found her right leg being hurt and said she had fallen out of bed. Later she said she had been startled by a dream in which an agitation fell on the edge of the bed. A telephone message was sent to the hospital and Mrs. Kutz was removed there. Drs. Newbury and Bank discovered a serious fracture of the limb.

COUNTRY CLUB GOLFERS.

Flocked to the Course in Large Numbers on Saturday. The country club golf course presented a spirited scene Saturday. An unusually large number of spectators were there, many golfers were playing and a match on between the country club regulars and substitute players, the following scores being made: J. H. Brooks.....85 Brink Thorne.....101 A. Z. Huntington.....87 James Blair.....101 A. E. Hunt, jr.....85 H. P. Simpson.....112 F. C. Fuller.....101 R. M. Scranton.....111 T. H. Watkins.....97 H. S. Kirkpatrick.....107 F. C. Whitmore.....111 C. K. Bedford.....113

COLLIERY RESUMED OPERATIONS.

REV. MR. EVANS AT THE HOSPITAL. After Thirty-seven Years an Injury Causes Him Trouble. Rev. B. I. Evans, of South Main avenue, a well known clergyman, is at the Moses Taylor hospital where he will today undergo an operation on his left leg. Thirty-seven years ago the member was crushed by a train of cars, necessitating amputation. The operation was not well performed, and of late the leg has given Mr. Evans much trouble. Dr. E. H. Heermann was consulted and recommended Mr. Evans to the hospital. A second operation will be performed.

FREDERICK NOTHAKER BURIED.

Services at His Son's Home on Wyoming Avenue Yesterday. The funeral of Fredrick Nothaker took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his son Charles Nothaker, of 124 Wyoming Avenue. A large assemblage of friends attended. Burial was made in the North Washington Avenue cemetery. The deceased was 74 years of age and was well known on the South Side. He is survived by William, Fredrick, Charles, Henry, Napoleon, Julius, Albert, and Mary Nothaker.

"When read that Dr. Angnew's Cathartic Powder could relieve Catarrh in 10 minutes I was far from being convinced. I tried it—a single puff through the blower afforded instant relief, stopped pain over the eyes and cleansed the nasal passage. Today I am free from catarrh." B. L. Eagan's (Easton, Pa.) experience has been that of thousands of others and may be yours. Sold by Matthews Bros.—10.

Souza and his hand will be at the Lyceum to-night.
